

Agricultural College and Research Institute, TNAU

Report on

Amrit Internship Orientation Programme

Venue- Madurai

Date: 25.03.2024

Amrit Internship Orientation Programme

Orientation programme for Amrit Interns was organized at Agricultural college and Research Institute, Madurai on 25.03 2024. A total number of 51 Final B. Sc. (Hons) Ag. Students from Agricultural College and Research Institute, Madurai who have been selected for Amrit Internship Programme attended the orientation programme.

Dr.Rajeev Ranjan, Director, IPL Centre for Rural Outreach, New Delhi virtually addressed the Amrit Interns about the objectives and activities of ICRO, current Scenario of Indian Agriculture and farmers, Amrit Internship Programme and expectations from the Amrit Interns. He also emphasized about the collection of data and the validity of the data. Dr.P.P. Mahendran, Dean, Agricultural College and Research Institute, Madurai and The Project Director detailed about the status of current agriculture in Tamil Nadu and advanced soil fertility management techniques for better crop production and sustainable agriculture. Dr.R. Velusamy Professor and Head, Department of Agricultural Extension and Rural Sociology highlighted the Amrit Interns about the importance of the scheme and works to be carried out during the Internship period.

Dr. G. Selvarani, Associate Professor (Agricultural Extension) and the Project Co-ordinator, Amrit Internship Programme of Agricultural College and Research Institute, Madurai explained about the work done for Amrit Internship programme starting from registration and placement of students in Paramakudi, Nainarkoil, Ramnad, Thirupullani, Mandapam and Kamudhi blocks of Ramnad District. Dr.J. Thilagam, Project Co-ordinator of Amrit Internship Programme TNAU, Coimbatore gave a hands-on experience to the students about uploading of collected data in Google forms.